The new DT is more than a website -- it is a portal for all the information, news, videos and connections among disciples in the International Churches of Christ around the world. You only need to remember one web address to access all the other sites among our churches. Click here to make DToday.org your homepage!

Here are some of the major hidden treasures in Disciples Today. Check them out to see what you're missing!

- DToday.tv is the source for hundreds of videos from the World Discipleship Summit, ICMCs, parenting retreats, HOPE broadcasts and more! This site has had over 800,000 views in the last year, from over 120 countries.
- Church and campus ministry locators are some of the favorite tools of DT users. Traveling to another state? Inviting family or friends to church in another city or country? Researching campus ministries for a college search? Sending a young Christian home for the summer? The church and campus ministry locators are incredible resources to find disciples around the world (see image below). Information such as the church's website, church size, campus ministry size, staff and contact information is easily accessible with these tools. You can help us update church information at this site; for campus ministry updates, please send us an email.
- Our Events page is a great source for keeping track of the multi-church retreats, teaching tours, and conferences around the world. Everything from church anniversary services, worship conferences, DT singles cruises and ICOC delegates meetings is consistently updated and posted on this page.
