Consider a Year-End Donation to Connect Disciples

Written by Disciples Today — Thursday, 03 December 2015

At Disciples Today, we strive to connect disciples around the world. We provide good news to encourage and inspire, announcements, church and campus ministry directories, and much, much more. We are grateful for the vital role God has given us to help our churches remain connected and inspired to expand our reach to find those who are seeking God.

At the end of the year, many disciples are looking for places to donate from the blessings God has given them. Our organization is totally dependent on help from churches and individual disciples. If you are in the position to do so, please consider making a donation to Disciples Today. We need your support for long term stability and to grow in our ability to serve you, our churches around the world, and those looking for God.

For those of you who have generously supported us, we thank you on behalf of the tens of thousands who have benefitted from your generosity around the world.

If you are interested in donating, please contact Business Manager Ann Schaub at annschaub@dtoday.net or see our Donations page.
